Dear Ms. Engler,

We are grateful for your generous contribution of $25,000.00 to National Jewish Health. This gift has been designated for Dr. Elizabeth Regan's Research Project.

Since 1899, people with the most challenging lung and related conditions have turned to National Jewish Health for care. And because of you, we can provide cutting-edge treatment to every adult and child who walks through our doors — regardless of their ability to pay.

Your gift has a direct impact on the lives of people like Jamie Hanley, a little girl whose debilitating food allergies mystified doctors in her home state of Georgia. Jamie's National Jewish Health team used a food challenge, the gold-standard test developed here, to identify the foods that triggered her allergies. We discovered Jamie's allergies, while severe, were not as extensive as her parents had thought. Under our care, her parents learned how to manage her condition and live a better life.

At National Jewish Health, we deal with challenging cases like this every single day — and thanks to your support, we have the resources to improve patients' lives. Every diagnosis, every treatment, every life saved is because of you.

We greatly appreciate your generosity and belief in our mission. National Jewish Health can continue providing life-saving care for people with respiratory, cardiac, and immune-related disorders; conducting research that helps patients around the world; and pioneering the new era of preventive and personalized medicine.

Sincerely,
